Some History

I'm 64 years old. I've been a self employed gardener for about 18 years while I was looking after my ageing mother.

My mother died in January 2021 and I've now moved from my mother's family home in Sevenoaks down to Faversham, where my daughter lives.

Before that I was...

Skills

A self taught Microsoft Access front end developer using Visual Basic for Applications inside Access (and once, maybe twice, in Excel), also SQL Server as a back end to Access and some Internet Information Server scripting using VBscript with ASP. This began around early 1998 (a small PAT testing/logging software company) and I learnt as I progressed from a trainee coder to Access developer (with a contract for a housing Association) to Access/SQL Server/Internet Information Server work for Thomson Financial in London, Mark Square, essentially fine tuning the Engineers databases.

Looking for

A chance to get back into doing some development work. Not looking for a high salary, maybe initially part time, work from home.

Experience

Thomson Financial / Access/SQL developer

September 1999 - December 2002, Mark Square, London
